

Planning and Design

This site will be a weather website. It will have 3-4 main pages.

- Fetching weather data form
- Clouds image carousel
- Home page
- Bibliography

I will use resources from the internet to make sure that my site functions as it should (e.g., making sure that the JavaScript for the form page works, and the API that I am using gives me the required output in the correct format). I will draw ideas from the links provided in modern website design, and I will go for a 'dark-mode' theme, using darker colours for most of the website, and using white for text. I will use accent colours where appropriate to draw the users eye.

See storyboard for layout information.
